

Here are the best new restaurants and bars in NYC

By Richard Morgan Posted: Friday November 17 2017

New York's restaurant and bar scene saw several exciting new additions this week, including a pair of Japanese spots and a cafe in one of the city's most iconic jewelry stores.

SaltBrick Tavern

Photograph: Courtesy SaltBrick Tavern

Do not be fooled by SaltBrick's signature Himalayan salt-tiled room for their dry-aged beef. The whimsical menu also included tots with caviar, coffee-rubbed lamb, rabbit meatballs and lobster BLT steam buns. And for dessert? "Piecaken": a turducken-style mashup of cheesecake, chocolate cream pie, and five-layer cake. 156 Tillary St, Brooklyn